The domestication of fire.

Fire has illuminated the home for both function and atmosphere. Despite the often short lived trends in architecture and design, a fireplace in the home has remained constant.

Venting capabilities well beyond 500ft and multiple air intake location options provide you with the ultimate flexibility. Montigo’s sleek minimalist design of unobstructed lines and ingeniously concealed technology means that when your fireplace is not in use it will fade into your living space and let life take over.
